Schmizza International, Inc. provides assistance for franchisees in accessing financing through its partnership with BoeFly.com, the online leader in financing for business borrowers. BoeFly is an innovative service that offers U.S. franchisee and prospective franchisees access to a network of 1500+ business lenders through the posting of a single loan request on BoeFly's web-based loan platform.

With BoeFly you will be able to build and post a single loan request for distribution to hundreds of lenders, review potential matches and connect with those lenders most compatible with your request. You can even invite lenders from your own personal network to securely and conveniently view your online financing request or upload additional documentation that may be necessary to complete the loan process. In addition, BoeFly will automatically include Schmizza International, Inc. specific material in your loan package to ensure it is as comprehensive as possible.

Think of BoeFly as the Match.com of the small business lending world, helping connect you with banks and lenders through their shared commonalities providing unprecedented efficiency and transparency in facilitating successful loan conversion.
